Product Description

About :

Cardamom belongs to the Zingiberaceae family and is scientifically known as either Elettaria cardamomum (green or true cardamom) or Amomum subulatum (black cardamom). Cardamom pods are small, elongated, and have a triangular cross-section. They range in color from green to brown, depending on the variety and processing method. Cardamom is available in both whole pods and ground form. Whole pods retain their freshness and flavor for a longer time, while ground cardamom is convenient for quick and easy use.

The two main varieties of cardamom are green cardamom (Elettaria cardamomum) and black cardamom (Amomum subulatum). Green cardamom is more commonly used in culinary applications, while black cardamom has a smoky flavor and is often used in savory dishes. Cardamom is a versatile spice used in various cuisines worldwide. It is a key ingredient in Indian, Middle Eastern, and Scandinavian cooking. Cardamom is used in both sweet and savory dishes, including curries, rice pilafs, desserts, baked goods, and beverages like tea and coffee.
