Product Description

About:

Rice flour is produced by milling rice grains, typically white or brown rice, into a fine powder. The rice is thoroughly cleaned and then ground to the desired consistency, resulting in a soft, smooth flour.

This is made from polished white rice grains and has a milder, neutral flavor. It's commonly used in baking and cooking. Rice flour is a versatile ingredient with a wide range of culinary applications. It's a popular choice for gluten-free baking, where it can be used to make bread, cakes, cookies, and pastries. Rice flour is an excellent thickening agent for soups, stews, sauces, and gravies. It imparts a smooth texture without adding a pronounced flavor. To maintain its quality and prevent moisture absorption, rice flour should be stored in an airtight container in a cool, dry place. It has a long shelf life when stored properly.
