Product Description

ABOUT:

Chilli flakes, also known as crushed red pepper flakes or dried chili flakes, are a versatile spice made from dried chili peppers that have been crushed or ground into small, coarse pieces. They come in various sizes and colors, depending on the type of chili pepper used, ranging from bright red to deep purple or even black.

The flavor profile of chili flakes can vary widely depending on the type of chili pepper used in their production. Some common varieties include cayenne, jalapeño, serrano, and bird's eye chili peppers. Each type of pepper offers its own unique level of heat, ranging from mild to extremely spicy, as well as distinct flavor notes ranging from fruity and sweet to earthy and smoky.
